

M. Franklin Turner

Partner

Franklin Turner is a U.S. attorney, partner, and Co-Leader of the Government Contracts and Export Controls Practice Group at McCarter & English, LLP, a United States law firm. Based in Washington D.C., Mr. Turner has significant experience resolving complex U.S. government contracts and cybersecurity issues for a broad array of multinational and mid-size corporations in the aerospace, defense, technology, health care and industrial supply sectors.

He assists clients in all aspects of U.S. federal procurement including ensuring government payments, prosecuting and defending contract bid protests, counseling companies on complex contract accounting matters, and representing prime contractors and subcontractors with implementing comprehensive regulatory and cybersecurity compliance programs.

Mr. Turner's expertise makes him a sought after lecturer, writer, and press commentator on various issues of interest to the federal procurement community, as well as supported his selection to the 2017 Law360 Government Contracts Editorial Advisory Board.
